

Open an Online eStore With the NACSCORP & JourneyEd Program (TechnologyEstore.com)

Have you ever wished you had the time or knowledge to set up a web site to sell technology products, or that there was an easy way to enhance and expand your existing site? Well, here's an online retailing solution that will have you competing online effectively in no time. The new NACSCORP & JourneyEd Program provides you with a free, easy-to-implement online eStore.

Whether you're new to the world of "e-tailing" or you've already got a site up and running, this program will allow you to provide your customers direct access to thousands of technology products—including all the ones you don't have the room or inclination to stock—from over 300 vendors, shipped straight to their dorm room, home, office, or campus lab (for institutional buyers).

It's fast to set up, free, and requires minimal effort on your part aside from signing up and supplying your logo, telling your customers about your eStore, and receiving your commissions. Get all the information you need and sign up for the program using the information and form below.
